HANDLING THE HUCKSTERS

20 TIPS TO RECOGNIZE AND AVOID SCAMS

Scammers will try to take advantage of every situation. They are brazen enough to crash a funeral to swindle the bereaved with tales that the departed person owed them money. They pretend to be someone's grandchild over the phone to cheat an unsuspecting grandparent during a funeral. Every scammer is personal, so be sure to double-check every unsolicited offer. 14

JUST HANG UP TO AVOID PHONE FRAUD

Relish the Savings

Stretch your hard-earned dollars further with savvy senior discounts.

BY SUSAN LOGAN-MCCRACKEN

When it comes to senior discounts, one thing to remember is it never hurts to ask. And while you're asking, inquire as to which discount is best. For example, a seasonal promotion may save you more than the senior discount. In some cases, you can use both discounts for even more savings. Don't wait for the establishment to offer you a discount, because sometimes even the employees don't know about it until they make further inquiries. Some discounts begin as young as age 50, but most start somewhere between age 55 and 65. The bottom line is it's important to do some research and ask questions.

Vintage Hollywood to VILLAGE HEAVEN

Golden Globe-winning actor, prolific writer and Admiral William Halsey's great-nephew Brett Halsey can't think of "any other place I'd rather live at this time in my life."

BY KIM CAMPBELL THORNTON

Village resident Brett Halsey's Golden Globe isn't for sale. It sits on a bookshelf with some photographs and the retired actor's collection of beer mugs. Halsey has been approached by auction houses that want to purchase the award (won in 1961) in the category "New Star of the Year" and sell it, but it's just one of several mementos from an extensive film and television career that won't be going on the auction block any time soon.
