Dr. Jack Miller, Phd will be sharing himself and his “soul work” personally with us - using stories from his own life's journey to show how we are NOT alone & how our loved ones are walking with us every day & every step along the way.

Dr. Miller is a psychologist in private practice who has formed numerous programs in Chicago to help those who are dying or grieving another's death. He is a former Catholic priest who founded The Center for Education on Death and Dying, Inc. and Cook County Hospital's Palliative Care Program.

Dr. Miller, author of Healing Our Losses: A Journal for Working Through Your Grief, has perfected a process which enables people to resolve their grief. He calls this: The Phoenix Project, an orchestrated rite of passage, which facilitates both emotional and spiritual growth. He has taken the Phoenix Project around the world.

Some of our programs are now featured on YouTube. Here is the link.
