

Calling All Writers and Storytellers!

If you have an entertaining story, we would love to hear it.

THE OLD PROS RADIO HOUR is a new venture featuring original stories written, produced, and broadcast by The Old Pros of Laguna Woods in partnership with the Video Club.

There are a lot of good writers in the Village, and the Old Pros has great actors who can dramatize readings. So we are putting them together in a series of podcasts that will be made available free of charge to the public. Each podcast comprises one or more stories read by experienced Old Pros actors, and recording is underway.

If you have an original, entertaining story, we would love to hear it.

For more information on podcasts, the kind of stories we are looking for, and where to send your work, visit our website www.ocoldpros.org and click on this image.

