Nathan Sutton is an eight-year Marine Corps veteran and former combat engineer with three tours. Following his service, he spent 12 years with the VA, helping more than 20,000 veterans access benefits as part of his 20-year federal career.

He also co-founded several nonprofits, including a music therapy program raising over $2 million annually, a recreational therapy initiative serving 10,000+ veterans and a wellness nonprofit focused on ethical whole health practices. His work has earned national recognition for its powerful impact on veteran mental health and well-being.
